Chamomile

Calm in a cup

Chamomile Tea

INGREDIENTS

- 1 teaspoon dried chamomile flowers
- 1 cup hot water (just below a boil)
- 1 teaspoon raw honey, after cooling (optional)

METHOD

1. Bring water just below a boil — steam, but no bubbles yet.
2. Pour the hot water over the dried chamomile flowers.
3. Cover and steep for 5 minutes.
4. Strain out the flowers.
5. Cool to a child-safe temperature before serving. Stir in honey if you like.

Vovó says:

Smell the steam first. The smell tells you what it does.

SAFETY:

Chamomile is in the daisy family. If you are allergic to ragweed, ask a grown-up first.

Then God said, "Behold, I have given you every plant yielding seed that is on the surface of all the earth..."
